

Letter From Irma Board of Trade Concerning Proposed Hospital

To the People and Taxpayers
Of Irma and District:

You have noticed in the last three issues of the Irma Times an article by the committee of the large hospital proposed by Wainwright. We would particularly call your attention to Para. 3 which takes great pains to set out the estimated figures of operating a small hospital like that suggested for Irma. It is most surprising to us to hear the proposed Irma hospital is to be a small hospital. We would also ask you to study "Schedule E" of their report wherein the figure of 18 mills is mentioned as the necessary assessment for the Irma hospital. Now turn back to Para. 3 and we find the words "18 mills on the assessed present Irma hospital area." These figures and phrases are very misleading. Please note the following facts supplied to us by the minister of health, the Hon. W. W. Cross. The proposed Irma hospital area is sufficient to build and maintain a hospital as approved by the Dept. of Health at a cost of 5 1/2 mills.

We have today in our possession properly filled in and witnessed petitions, signed by a great many land owners outside of the designated area who wish to come into the Irma Area. These petitions are being filled in as fast as others come forward to affix their signatures. At the present rate we will soon be able to present to the minister enough petitions to nearly double the size of the present Irma Hospital Area. What the people of the Irma district are striving for is a doctor, nursing care and a hospital within reach of each taxpayer. The committee of the Large Wainwright Hospital did not mention the many times that a doctor is needed urgently and quickly. They (the committee) did not mention the very high cost of obtaining the services of a doctor who would have to drive 25 or 30 miles to some case that could not be moved. They (the committee) did not mention the many times that a doctor is needed when the mercury stands at 40 degrees below zero and the roads blocked with snow. They (the committee) did not mention that your taxes would be the same, 25 miles, 30 miles or 35 miles from this large hospital which would be about as much use to the taxpayers of Jarrold and district as the hospitals of Edmonton.

Think this over very carefully and choose wisely, for if the Irma district is taken into this Wainwright large area, you have lost your chance of ever having a doctor or hospital of your own and will be paying in money for someone else's convenience. Your committee on the hospital question has not been idle and very soon we hope to call a public meeting so that all points will be made clear. This meeting will be attended by an official of the department of public health. The Irma Board of Trade.

FALL RYE for WEED CONTROL

Fall rye has proven itself as an excellent crop to use in controlling perennial or annual weeds.

As fall rye is a fair good price now and there is evidence of a good price next year, I would strongly advise you to seed your weediest summerfallow this fall to Fall Rye.

There are a number of farmers in the M.D. of Wainwright using fall rye to kill weeds, and the results are remarkable.

Fall rye should be seeded between the 1st and 15th of Sep. at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 bushels per acre. The use of Ammonium Phosphate fertilizer at the rate of 15 lbs. 11-48 or 30 lbs. 2-19 per acre speeds the growth in the fall and establishes a stronger plant to withstand the winter, and also speeds the growth in the spring.

In a normal year, the rye should be cut and stacked to the side by July 31, then you immediately start cultivating to germinate any weed seeds that may be lying dormant in the soil.

If you find your field still badly infected, it would be advisable to repeat the fall rye that same fall, or cultivate through to freeze up. Preferably Ollie Barley.

Farewell Gathering Held For Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter

On the evening of August 8 a large number of friends and neighbors met together in Hedley's hall to try to show Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter some of the respect and appreciation which they have won for themselves during the 20 years they have lived and worked among us.

With Mr. C. Milne and Mr. H. Targett as masters of ceremonies, the evening began with a friendly game of cards which was pleasantly interspersed with the following items:

Two piano solos by Mrs. Ray Locke; an amusing reading by Mrs. Targett; two accordion solos by R. Congdon. After this the ladies served a tasty lunch, following which Mr. and Mrs. Carter were called to the front of the hall and the following presentations were made.

Mrs. McKay, on behalf of the Ladies' Aid, spoke of Mrs. Carter's splendid work in that organization and presented her with a beautiful lamp.

Mr. Ralph Congdon represented the Legion and told how Mr. Carter had always worked for the good of the returned men. The Legion's gift to Mr. Carter was a Reynolds Wonder pen.

Don Quinlan, on behalf of the Junior Hockey Club and the Junior Baseball Club, presented Ernest Carter with a billfold.

Mr. Clarence Lovig was spokesman for the Irma Sunday school and on behalf of that organization presented a leather covered snapshot album to Colin Carter.

The highlight of the evening came when Mr. V. Hutchinson added a generous purse from the community at large to the gifts already received by Mr. and Mrs. Carter. Mr. Hutchinson spoke in no uncertain voice as to the value of such citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Carter and he expressed the feelings of all present, for we have all admired Mr. Carter for his industry and integrity, Mrs. Carter for her willingness and capability in helping with every good work. And, if we're honest, we will all admit how often we have imposed on the good nature of them both.

We wish Mr. and Mrs. Carter every success in their new position as supervisors in the new high school dormitory at Wainwright, and our one consolation is that they will be close enough to still visit back and forth with us here.

Bank of Montreal Crop Report No. 9

Alberta—Crop prospects have declined sharply from frost damage in July and subsequent excessive heat. Frost damage is confined to north-eastern areas, while heat damage affects Peace River and eastern districts. Conditions generally are satisfactory elsewhere. A good fall wheat and rye crop is being harvested. Spring wheat cutting will commence about August 20. Honey production is likely to exceed that of last year.

Saskatchewan—Exceedingly hot weather with light scattered showers prevailed during the past week and crops are being forced to early maturity. Rains would assist proper filling of late crops and check further deterioration. Cutting has commenced at a number of points and prospects are generally fair to good, except in the southern districts where yields will be light. Heavy saw-fly damage is reported in the south-west area.

Manitoba—Exceedingly hot, dry weather has forced the ripening of grain and crops are suffering. Cutting of wheat, oats and barley has commenced in a number of districts and is expected to be general in a week to ten days. Leaf rust has appeared in many areas, but is considered too late to cause much damage.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

The Irma Board of Trade met on the evening of August 13.

A water softener project was discussed. Facts and figures for this will be available for the next meeting.

The hospital scheme was gone into thoroughly and the members were pleased with the progress made.

The question of closing hours was brought up but as no authentic statement by the department was available this matter was left in abeyance.

The Board of Trade congratulates the town council on the general improvements recently made.

Irma Sports Day Draws Crowd

The Irma sports day on Wed., August 14, attracted a good crowd in spite of the muddy roads. One shower in the afternoon did a little to spoil the day for the enthusiastic spectators.

In ladies football, the Wainwright girls defeated Irma 6-3.

An exhibition football game between Imperial Oil men and the Irma team resulted in a win for the oilmen.

Only three teams took part in the men's baseball as the Mannville team was unable to get across to Irma owing to poor road conditions. Wainwright defeated Ribstone 5-0 in the first game. In the second game Irma won 6-2 from Ribstone. The final game between Wainwright and Irma was called in the eighth inning when a dispute arose. Wainwright was leading 8-5.

Plenty of good eats and refreshments were on hand in the booth looked after by the ladies.

To wind up the day, a large crowd was on hand for the dance which lasted long into the night.

CARD OF THANKS

The Irma baseball club wishes to thank those who helped in any way to make the sports on August 14 such a success. Special thanks to E. R. Wells, Ed Sharkey and Torlie Larson who umpired the games, also to Ross Eaton, Mr. Black and Mr. McFarland.

Under Some Conditions

Over-Exertion Even In Simple Games
Can Be Dangerous

The Wichita Falls, Texas, man who put so much energy into a demonstration of his favorite golf swing that he broke both legs in the effort, really gave a demonstration of how dangerous over-exertion can be. Professional athletes talk now how easy it is to injure or break an arm or a leg by a sudden twist of these members. Golf is not regarded as the most strenuous of games, but the above circumstance indicates it can become so under certain conditions. All anyone has to do to find out how easy it is to get "out of condition" is to resume some work or game that has not been participated in for some time. The sensible thing to do is avoid exerting oneself to the limit, keeping in mind one's age and physical condition.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

FATHERLY PERCEPTION

By MARGARET ELSOM

Copyright
Wheelwright Newspaper Syndicate

WE HAD BEEN married about ten months when I said to Marie: "Darling, just how much do you think we could scrape up to buy a car—just a cheap one, any kind just so long as it goes?"

Marie was washing the supper dishes at the time, and me—well I was drying them for her, and I'm not hen-pecked either! I'm only too pleased to think that I have such a fine girl as Marie for my wife. Gee, but I love her. And here we are, working on a fruit farm, 50 miles away from our nearest railway, and six miles from the nearest town. Once a week we managed to get into town with Mr. Kayes (my boss). But when a man expects to become a father in two months' time he wants to make certain he has a definite way of getting to the hospital ahead of the stork.

Whenever I thought of the stork I sent the chills up and down my spine, and I envisioned it speeding through the stratosphere—wherever storks do their speeding—and me, fearlessly trying to obtain transportation for myself and Marie. It wasn't a nice vision. In fact, it gave me "stork fever," and now as we're doing the dishes the lanky, feathered flying animal loomed closer than ever, and that was the reason why I had asked Marie about a car.

Marie sighed a little. "Yes, things sometimes happen before schedule. I think we could manage a cheap car, say around $200.00."

I finished drying the Blue Willow cup—and also finished the cup's usefulness. Whenever I'm drying dishes, the tea towel seems to have a habit of getting mixed up in the handles of the cups, and when I go to set them down and pull the towel away, it doesn't come clear (that's the second cup I've broken in the last three days). It really gets a man down when he's expecting the stork.

There had been an ad running in the paper along these lines: "For sale, Model A, good running order, five good tires, motor recently overhauled. Ceiling price: Phone 264." Marie agreed it might do.

I threw the paper aside and went over to the telephone to ring the number, while Marie stood biting her nails. A squeaky little voice answered.

"Yup, this here's the place, Mister—car ain't sold as yet, she ain't, but it's likely right smart 'goin' to be. You don't see bargains a-carburatin' under your nose like this every day; no sir. She won't be settin' here long, no she won't, so you want to grab her right quick."

The man breathed and I had time to say, "How much?"

"Two and a half as she stands—right ready to exhilarate down the home stretch—yus air," he said. I felt the concussion of the extra $50 as I went through the ceiling, but I thought I might be able to get it down a little. I reached for my hat and coat and made a dash to catch Mr. Kayes, on his way into town to lodge meeting. I yelled to Marie, that I wouldn't be long, and the above circumstance indicates it can become so under certain conditions. All anyone has to do to find out how easy it is to get "out of condition" is to resume some work or game that has not been participated in for some time. The sensible thing to do is avoid exerting oneself to the limit, keeping in mind one's age and physical condition.

It happened that the owner of the car was a very old gentleman who thought that his rheumatism wouldn't let his leg move fast enough to "break" her when she needed it. He was slightly stubborn over the $50, but I won out. In half an hour I was riding down the front street, proud as any expectant father. I felt I had obeyed my "premonition" to get a conveyance—and my heart sang. So excited was I that I pulled her over to the curb and went into the corner drug store to phone Marie.

"Darling," I said, "we are the owner of a $200 automobile—and it runs." She sounded excited. "What's the matter—you're all right, are you?" I asked breathlessly.

"Oh, yes, dear," she said, "but hurry home—it's happened." My heart ceased to beat, and the booth went all black for just a moment, but, pulling myself together, as an expectant father should, I told her to get right into bed. I would be home immediately. It happened—and her all alone, and—and at the telephone! Why it was impossible. But she said it had happened. Oh, the poor darling.

I jumped into the car, and raced around to Dr. Gluck's. He was just changing a tire in his garage. I streaked across the lawn and pulled him toward my humble car, explaining what had happened. "Till take you out, doctor—I'll take you out—never mind your flat tire—I'll run you out to Marie right away!"

"But—but, my dear man," he said, "he's at least my leg." He rushed to the house, coming out again in two seconds flat. Jumping in the car, he asked, "Did you say she answered the phone?" "Yes, doctor—yes—yes, and I told her to get right back into bed, I'd be right out."

"Incredible," he mumbled, "incredible."

"Will that hurt her?" I pleaded. "Incredible!" I said. And still don't know why the Doctor grinned. Well, the old car sported up the hills and back-fired down them. Leaning heavy round the bends, she ticked off the six miles quick. A cow got in the way once. I pressed the horn button, and it went. "Br-r-r-p-p," and unthinkingly I said, "excuse me."

Looking back, on that evening, I sure feel like the fool that I was. As long as I live, I'll never forget the scene when we opened the door. There was Marie, on her hands and knees, over a cardboard carton which held Donald and five newly-born kittens!

I had to wait six more weeks before I became a father!

FISH—FRESH OR FROZEN

Fish is a menu favorite whether caught by the amateur angler or chosen from the stock of fresh or quick frozen varieties. Its popularity is well deserved, too, from the point of view of food value and variety.

Take mackerel for instance. Research shows this fish to be a good source of three important B vitamins as well as good quality protein. Mackerel contains considerable fat and for that reason is best baked or broiled.

One of the most delicious and one of the simplest ways to prepare small fresh fish or filets of large fish, is by oven frying. This method cooks the fish quickly and gives it that crisp golden crust about which gourmets rave.

Oven-Fried Fish
1 pound fish filets
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon salt
4 cups corn flakes
4 teaspoons cooking oil
Dip fish in salted milk, then in finely crushed corn flakes. Arrange on well-oiled baking sheet. Sprinkle with oil. Bake in very hot oven (500 deg. F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: Four 4-ounce servings.

Boiled Mackerel
3 to 4 pounds fish
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons melted butter
Have whole fish split and cleaned. Wash thoroughly and wipe with a cloth. Mix salt and paprika with melted butter, and brush over fish. Place fish skin side down on greased broiler rack. Broil 2 inches from heat about 10 to 15 minutes, until brown and flesh flakes when tried with a fork. Serve at once with sections of lemon. Yield: 6 servings.

NEW DRESS UNIFORM
Britain's peacetime army is to have a new ceremonial and walk-out uniform. The dress committee of the war office announced that it will be of blue serge with a stand-up collar fastened at the front like the old patrol jacket uniform.

We're always hearing about these "zero hours," in various disputes. It's a good name, because nothing happens at those hours.

DEFACING BOOKS

Is Strictly Against Library Rules But People Do It

Books owned by oneself may be marked just as much as the owner likes; but it is an impertinence to make notes on books owned by the public and loaned from the public library.

Every so often one gets a book profusely marked with passages underlined. There is someone who seems to take a delight in recording his opposition to the teaching given in some books. That the notes are futile and often foolish is beside the mark; it should not be done.

Everyone who borrows books from the library has a right to get them fresh and unsoiled by foolish marginal notes, or underlinings. Apart altogether from the ethical side of the case, it is against the rules of the library to deface books. —Guelph Mercury.

Beyond The Horizon

There is Always The Unfolding Of New Lands

Wherever one may be, there is always a horizon, the boundary of the world one sees, the line where earth and sky would seem to meet.

A city presents a disorderly skyline—skyscrapers, apartment houses, and office buildings crowded pell-mell—but nature's myriad skylines are peace and majesty, whether it be rolling hills, blue line of sea, feathered edge of forest or towering mountains.

As the wanderer moves, his skyline moves, and as certainly as there is always a horizon, there is always a beyond. The unknown lying beyond the horizon has tempted the seer since the beginning of history. It has lured me into rough seas and bleak wildernesses.

In his long journeying no traveler ever reached the horizon. It lay forever beyond his grasp, a tantalizing line on the rim of the sky, extending mute challenge.

There is, one might think, a hint of the eternal in the horizon and a hint of infinity in the beyond. The promise of the skyline is not barren. Always there is the fulfilment—the slow unfolding of new lands.—Montreal Gazette.

SMILE AWHILE

"Yes, my wife gets more out of a novel than anybody."

"How's that?"

"Well, she always starts in the middle, so she's not only wondering how it will all end, but how it began."

"Your wife is a very sympathetic woman, isn't she?" asked Robinson.

"Yes, very," replied Smith.

"She works on the theory that you can find whatever you want when you don't want it by looking where it wouldn't be if you did want it."

"Not so badly," said the other; "keeping alive."

The first man eyed his rival for a moment, then asked casually: "What's your motive?"

"The two survivors of a shipwreck, a seaman and a stockbroker, had clambered on to a raft."

"If a ship doesn't sight us soon," said the seaman, "we'll starve."

"Don't talk nonsense," snapped the stockbroker, "I've got plenty of money."

An Aberdonian, living alone, had an early morning train to catch. Being a heavy sleeper, he was afraid he would not wake up in time. Several possibilities presented themselves, but every one meant a tip.

In the end, he addressed an envelope to himself and posted it without a stamp.

Early next morning there came a thunderous knock on the door. The Scot climbed out of bed and opened the window.

"Here's a letter for you," called the postman. "Fivepence to pay."

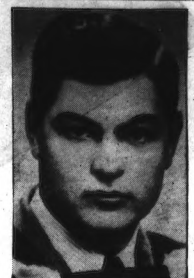

"Take it back," commanded the Aberdonian. "Carelessness like that doesn't deserve to be encouraged."

An Irishman wanted to take his donkey by train, so when he got to the station he asked where he should put it.

"At the back of the train, the stationmaster told him. The Irishman then got into his carriage and after about an hour's travelling he asked a fellow-passenger: "And how fast might we be goin' now?"

"About sixty miles an hour," he was told.

"Begorra," he exclaimed, "My Neddy must be steppin' out!"

This is conservation—the first requisite for personal security—the first attribute of good citizenship.

If we all help in all five ways, the threat of inflation—tampant in some other countries and now menacing us—can be beaten and stamped out.

Let us all be No. 1 citizens. Remember, if you are a No. 1 citizen, you will look after No. 1 ... Save for yourself and you save for Canada.

* Inflation, to the citizen, means simply less and less value for his dollar ... his living costs soar as free and careless spending drives up the price of goods still in short supply. Inflation is no respecter of persons ... like the rain, its evil falls on the just and the unjust alike. Then, Canada's fight against the menace of inflation is your fight ... the fight of each of our citizens —12,000,000 strong.

OBJECTIONS TO WHEAT PLAN

The executive of the United Farmers of Alberta meeting in Edmonton last week expressed approval of the principle of the government wheat program. Objection was taken to certain phases of it.

It was held that payment of participation certificates should be made on the basis of each year's operations and not pooled over a five-year period.

A protest was also registered against the policy of selling wheat for domestic consumption at $1.25 a bushel. Such a policy, it was claimed, incurs the loss of 30c a bushel when the price the British have to pay for Canadian wheat is considered.
